The Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) was developed to measure essential skills in the academic areas of reading, mathematics, science, and English and language usage. These entry-level skills have been deemed important for health sciences program applicants by a panel of curriculum experts.

Test Structure:

Reading – 31%	Key Ideas & Details, Craft & Structure, Integration of Knowledge & Ideas 53 Questions/64 Minutes
Math - 22%	Numbers & Algebra, Measurement & Data Interpretation 36 Questions/54 Minutes
Science - 31%	Human Anatomy & Physiology, Life & Physical Sciences, Scientific Reasoning 53 Questions/63 Minutes
English & Language Usage - 16%	Conventions of Standard English, Knowledge of Language, Vocabulary Acquisition 28 Questions/28 Minutes
Total: 170 Questions/209 Minutes

When to Test: It is best to test after completing the Information Session, meeting the math requirements, and completing ENG 111, ENG 112, and BIO 168 & BIO 169 (for Nursing) or BIO 163 (for Radiography or Medical Sonography).

Scoring: TEAS points are based on the Composite Score, which is an average of an applicant’s reading, math, science, and English and language usage scores. We do not go by the score that is printed on the score report. Applicants may take the TEAS multiple times; their highest score in each area will be used in calculating the Composite Score. Note that TEAS scores are reported as percentages, in decimal format (e.g., 70.5%). TEAS scores will be rounded up or down to the nearest whole number (.4 or lower will be rounded down; .5 or higher will be rounded up).
