

How Can Finish First NC Enhance Proactive Advising?

OUTREACH

Disengaged students (and those considering pausing their studies) who can complete a credential within one semester may be incentivized to continue their studies to complete it. Advisors can use the information from FFNC to maximize their touchpoints with students and encourage academic engagement.

ACADEMIC PLANNING

FFNC highlights clear pathways to completion with information that is individualized to each student. This empowers advisors and students with the ability to make informed decisions by sharing exactly which courses students need to take to cross the finish line as soon as possible.

CAREER ADVISING

FFNC reveals opportunities students have to quickly complete a credential in a program of study, advancing their career prospects in that area. Since the program evaluates student behavior, rather than the declared intent, it shows credentials in areas of the student's interest, which can highlight various career paths.

FINANCIAL PLANNING

FFNC shows advisors options for completion that students can leverage to save on their education costs. Additionally, students that FFNC highlights automatically meet certain criteria for Finish Line grants, and some students may be fully eligible to receive Finish Line funds.
