WELCOME

As we approach the end of the semester, it's a great time to reflect on the progress you've made and celebrate all the hard work you've put in so far. In this edition, we highlight the achievements of our Pathways Scholars, share tips for staying focused and motivated as finals approach, and offer a few reminders to help you make the most of your college experience. ## COLLEGE SUCCESS TIPS

LIMIT DISTRACTIONS

Identify what commonly distracts you (social media, TV, etc.) and find strategies to minimize those distractions during study times.

CREATE A SCHEDULE

Develop a weekly planner that includes class times, study sessions, and personal commitments. Consider using digital tools or apps for reminders.

SEEK SUPPORT

Don't hesitate to ask peers, advisors, or mentors for help managing your workload.

PATHWAYS SPOTLIGHT

★ Meet Southeast Raleigh High School's Rising Star: Keysaun Eleazer, Aspiring Football Scholar ★

Junior Keysaun Eleazer has big dreams on and off the field. He's working hard to earn a full-ride football scholarship and plans to study sports medicine in college, combining his love for sports with a passion for helping others.

"Sports medicine is perfect for me," he says. "It's all about staying healthy and reaching goals—just like what I'm doing now."

Supported by his family, especially his mom, Keysaun Eleazer juggles a CTE academic path, football, basketball, and track, driven by a commitment to succeed. And when he's not on the field or in the classroom, you might catch him gaming, unwinding with friends before his next big game or exam.
