Dear Dr. Boone:

Thank you for your letter of May 19, 2011, and the additional information on collaborative agreements which you are terminating with the following institutions for the specified programs:

Johnston Community College—A.A.S. in Biopharmaceutical Technology

There are no students enrolled. The College continues to offer the A.A.S. in Biopharmaceutical Technology.

Surry Community College—A.A.S. in Simulation and Game Development

One student is left in the program; he transferred to Wake Tech in fall 2008. Faculty were informed via the supervising dean. Students were informed about terminating programs through the Admissions, Academic, and Advising Offices. Students are given counseling through the Advising Office and faculty advisors help them either complete the degree or transfer into a similar program at the College. Information about the terminated program is also posted on the College website. Faculty were not affected.

We accept the notification for the terminated collaborative agreements and request no additional information.
